Re: ISO 26000 Standards

Greetings:

On behalf of Education Beyond Borders (EBB), we understand the ISO 26000 to be the guidance principles for Corporate Social Responsibility.

Our process of education, professional and community development and capacity building will keep in mind those aspects of holistic thinking that applies in our programme materials—where applicable—and according to our ability to develop curricula/materials identifying the connections between existing curriculum and the Standards themselves. We recognize this may be a process over time and it is our expressed intention to bring forward holistic values implied in the ISO 26000 Standards.

Further, EBB believes its curricula/materials are already holistic in nature and will look to participating with the World Peace Posse and its Heart of Africa Campaign as a focal point for building the link between education, the community at large, and business.

We anticipate EBB playing a lead role in the countries where we already have a presence and look forward to expanding to other countries through this Campaign.

We look forward to becoming a major influence for peace and empowerment.

Sincerely,

President, Education Beyond Borders

P.S. We will have our team review the educational materials at www.homeplanet.org for materials that may be helpful in delivery of knowledge and information.
